

Testimonials for "Dining at the White House" project

"What a wonderful event! Congratulations to you, the teachers and the students for bringing this all together. Everything was spot-on and such an exciting & unique learning opportunity for the students to work alongside John."

- Pamela Haines, Publicist of Dining at the White House

"What a way to culminate a formal education career than to have your students excel on that stage with world class guest faculty, VIP guests, and most important, the families of the students celebrating their rite of passage from vo-tech student to emerging culinary professional."

-Dr. Robert Gillio, Developer of Augmented Reality.

"This was the best night of my high school career, and my dad was here to see it."

-BAVTS Participating Student

"Please understand - the event last Tuesday was something never done. We highlighted the integration of academics into CTE at a level I have not experienced in my career - we are on to something good here."

-Dr. Michael Curley, PDE School Leader

"I couldn't have been more proud of these students! Watching them apply what they learned from reading "Dining at the White House" and then apply that knowledge to prepare a dinner and serve a real audience was amazing to watch. Each student beamed with pride as they worked together to showcase literacy integration in CTE. Learning doesn't get better than this!"
