

Hands-on Veterinary Rat Growth Project
W.B. Saul Agriculture High School

Students collected and analyzed food consumption and daily weight gain of their rats for six weeks as their senior comprehensive science project.

Students not only learned how to collect and analyze data, they also learned how to properly take care of their rats. Some of the students bonded well with their rats. In some cases, the rats "assisted" in inputting data.